

Who Should Attend

This conference will benefit all pediatric and family practice physicians, mid-level providers, nurses, residents, medical students and other healthcare professionals who work with children.

Location

Virtual, from the comfort of your home or office.

Program Objectives

Conference attendees will be able to

- Identify common and uncommon red flags noted in the primary care physician office or specialty clinic that will prompt further workup for a potential brain tumor.
- Describe the treatment approach to pathologies that may be seen in the clinic.
- Describe the surgical management of some brain tumors.
- Explain the importance of looking for subtle symptoms that could lead to early diagnosis of brain tumors and improved patient outcomes.

Disclosure

Tenet Healthcare Organization Learning and Development Team and Children's Hospital of Michigan make every effort to develop CME activities that are scientifically based, accurate, current and objectively presented. In accordance with the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education Standards for Commercial Support, Tenet has implemented a mechanism requiring everyone in a position to control contents of an education activity (i.e., local CME coordinators, course director, planning committee members, peer reviewers, speakers, presenters, moderators, etc.) to disclose any relevant financial relationships with commercial interests and manage/resolve any conflicts of interest prior to the activity. Individuals must disclose to participants the existence or non-existence of financial relationships for themselves as well as their spouses/partners at the time of the activity and/or 12 months prior.

The following have no financial relationship to disclose:

Ernest Franklin, MD, OL&D – CME Lead
Rudolph Valentini, MD – Local CME Course Director
Janet Houghan – Local CME Coordinator
Jackie Smith, MPH – Planning Committee
Carissa Wentland, DO – Presenter
Lisa Bohra, MD – Presenter
Stephanie Toll, DO – Presenter
Mitchel Williams, MD – Presenter
Neena Marupudi, MD – Presenter

Commercial Support:
